Look at all this cat-teaser grass!
We should tell Jack.
Why do cats like cat-teaser grass, anyway?
1
This is green foxtail, whose scientific name is enokoroguse.
In other words, it actually means "dog's tail."
2
Maybe cats instinctively jump after it...
...because they see the dog's tail in it.
3
Hey, Jack! Over here!
There's a whole bunch of cat-teaser grass!
Go ahead. Don't mind us!
We don't have any tails!
